

Tyson Throws

The Tyson throws were held at the Walker Pavilion, approximately 2 miles north of the track center. The fields were strong in the throws contested, the conditions were quiet and cold. No heat was evident in this large facility so temperatures appeared to be in the 40 degree range. Line markings for distances thrown were not evident, that in combination with a chilled audience made it a tough gig for the competitors. Results at <http://flashresults.com>
